£8m to build link road will help develop new housing

By Owen Hughes

WANTAGE will receive nearly £8million to build a relief road around a new development bypassing a commuter road outside a primary school.

The Wantage Eastern Link Road will exit the roundabout at Mably Way near Grove and join the Reading Road east of the town, cutting out commuter traffic through the heart of the small village of Charlton.

The road connecting the A338 to the A417 will be built around the perimeter of the new 1,500 home Crab Hill development adjacent to Charlton.

By skirting around the edge of the development, the road will mean less traffic passing by Charlton Primary School.

Julie Mabberley, manager of the Wantage and Grove Campaign Group, said the government funding is "very good news".

She said: "According to correspondence with Councillor Barber in 2014 [Vale leader Matthew Barber], the Vale has also secured the ability to borrow at favourable rates to help accelerate the delivery of infrastructure so there should be no reason for the developers to wait for any houses to be completed before building the road.

"In addition this will release county money which would have been spent on this road for other projects in the area – perhaps they can use it to improve the cycle route out of town along the A417 or even to build the Western Relief Road?"

The total cost of building the road is expected to be around £15million with the remainder of the funds coming from developer contributions and other funding pots.

Housing Secretary Sajid Javid and Chancellor Philip Hammond announced the successful joint bid for the new road and investment in infrastructure at Wellington Gate on Grove Airfield on Thursday last week.

Councillor Matthew Barber, leader of the Vale, said: "We welcome the funding for the new link road. This route is an important part of our plan to help bring new homes to the Vale over the next 20 years."

Leader of Oxfordshire County Council Ian Hudspeth called it fantastic news for Wantage and Oxfordshire.

"This funding will ensure infrastructure is provided at the early stage of development and provides better transport links between new housing and areas of employment."

Development on the Wantage link road is expected to begin next year.

Ultra trot takes in 50 miles along Thames

BRAVE runners took on the banks and towpaths along the Thames as they ran a 50-mile ultra run over the weekend.

The annual Thames Trot Ultra from Oxford to Henley passed through Abingdon on Saturday, with supporters cheering and keeping the runners going on their gruelling challenge.

Runners set off from Hawkwell House Hotel three miles south of Oxford, jogged to Iffley lock, and after crossing the river took on the towpath heading south.

E-fits of three of the four men police want to speak to in connection with the attempted Bitcoin theft in Moulsford

E-fits reveal men sought over Bitcoin robbery bid

Descriptions of three released, no details of fourth

By George Welch

E-FITS of three men believed to be behind Britain's first digital currency heist have been released, as the police continue to hunt for suspects.

Armed robbers broke into a house in affluent Moulsford and tried to force city trader Danny Aston, 30, to transfer Bitcoins electronically over to them.

The gang of four broke into the property in Offlands Court, off Reading Road, at around 9.40am on January 22, holding two men and a woman at gunpoint.

Police have since confirmed the transaction was unsuccessful and the men fled empty-handed.

Police are yet to make an arrest and have released these images and descriptions of three of the men.

The first man is black, around 19 years old, 6ft 1in tall, of an athletic/slim build and was wearing a dark blue sports jacket with distinctive white slashes across the shoulder and down one arm. He was wearing similar colour trousers, but these were not a matching set. He was also wearing white shoes which made him stand out.

The second man is white, in his mid twenties, around 5ft 7ins tall and of slim build. He had long patchy stubble and was wearing a small rucksack on his back.

The third man is black, also in his mid twenties and is taller than 6ft. He was wearing a black Puffa-style jacket.

Officers revealed no details of the fourth man.

Mr Aston was struck in the head during the aggravated burglary but was not seriously injured. He attended the John Radcliffe Hospital and was later discharged.

Thames Valley Police are still appealing for information. Contact police on 101 quoting reference 43180021974 if you can help. Alternatively call Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Growth deal backed

LEADERS of all six Oxfordshire councils have backed a £215m deal for 100,000 homes in the county.

The Oxfordshire Growth Board, made up of the six council leaders, met last week to officially recommend that the deal, announced in November's Autumn Budget, should be formally accepted.

The deal still needs to be agreed by all local authorities at special meetings but the delivery plan is being finalised with government officials.

The Growth Board wants to use £150m for transport infrastructure, £60m to guarantee affordable housing and another £5m to aid the planning process.

Bob Price, chairman of the Growth Board and a city councillor, said the deal "represents a comprehensive and integrated approach to addressing Oxfordshire's housing, infrastructure and economic challenges".

"[The plan] recognises the critical role the county will play in driving forward the UK economy post-Brexit, attracting global investment," he added.

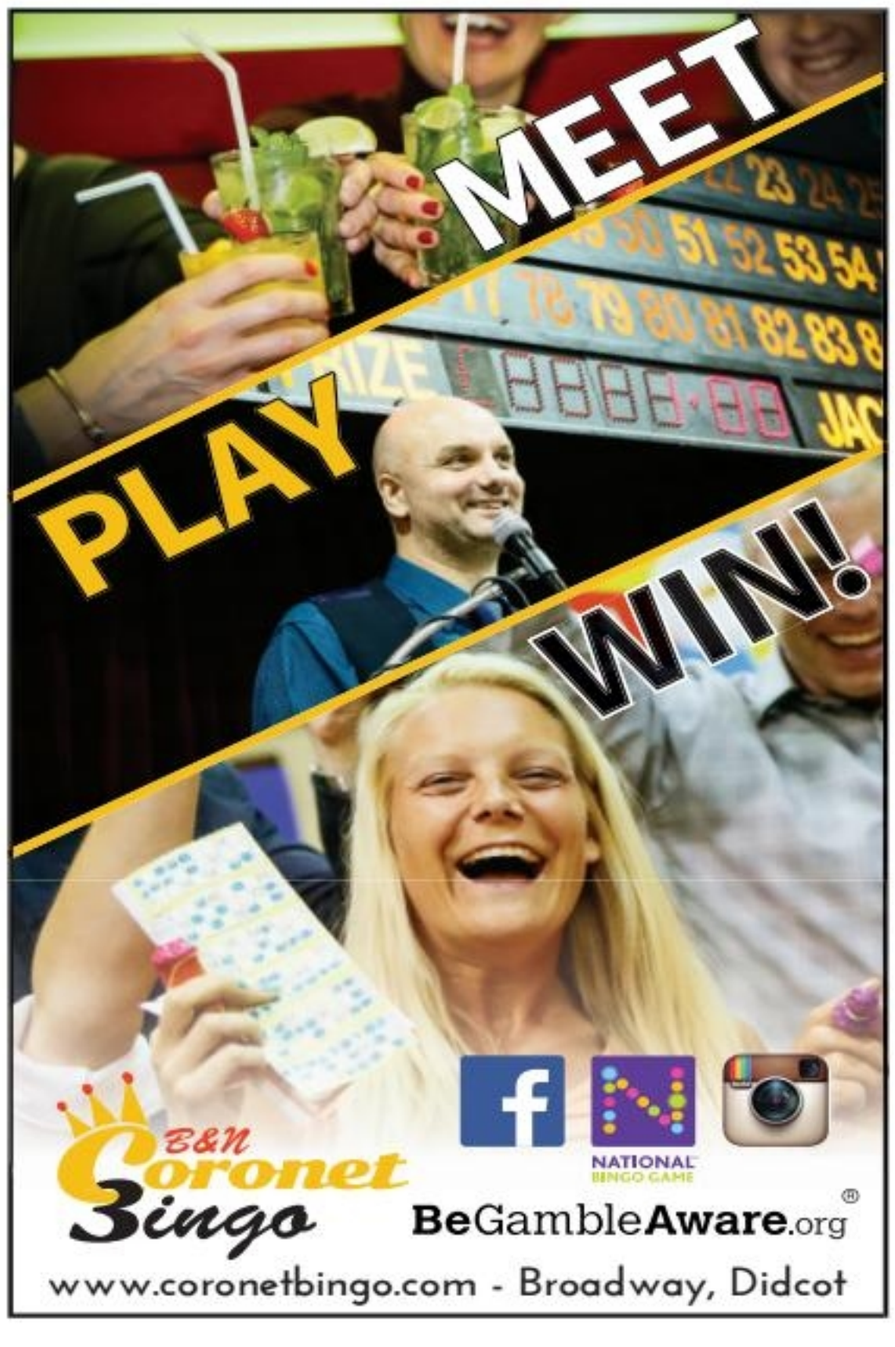
Burglary charges

TWO men accused of stealing £2,000 worth of wrapped presents from an Oxford home on Christmas Eve spoke only to confirm their names as they appeared in court for the first time last week.

Daniel Webb, 34, and Matthew Webb, 36, both of no fixed abode, appeared at Oxford Crown Court on Friday last week.

They are both charged with burglary following the break-in at a house in Walton Street, Jericho.

The men will appear at the same court to enter pleas on February 20.



Playground games fit for adults

Sarah Plater is helping Bicester Rabble get fit and have fun

PLAYGROUND games are being used to get grown ups moving and get fitter.

Called Bicester Rabble, the scheme offers immersive playground-style games including childhood favourites such as Capture the Flag, The Hunger Games, Dodgeball, British Bulldog and Jailbreak.

Founder and instructor Sarah Plater, who lives on the Kingsmere estate in Bicester, said: "I found out about Rabble in Time Out London magazine, and signed up for updates for if they ever launched nearer to Oxfordshire.

"I signed up for training in London and then became a franchisee after that.

"I have only played in London as up until now that was the only place it was on offer. Now franchises have launched as far off as America and Australia - it's really taking off."

Writer and photographer Sarah, 33, said during sessions players burn up to 1,000 calories and cover up to 8km in one game without even realising it.

She said: "It's really tough to keep doing exercise that you don't enjoy, as every time you have to convince yourself to do it for the long-term fitness gains. Bicester Rabble takes the opposite approach. It's fun, so you look forward to going every week. It's friendly, so you have great banter and social encouragement."

Bicester Rabble takes place at the new Whitelands Farm Sports Ground on Mondays from 6.45pm.

Popular footballer dies after collapsing during match

HEARTBROKEN friends have paid tribute to popular Oxford man Wayne St Clair who died after collapsing during a veterans football match.

The player died at the John Radcliffe Hospital at about 4.30am on Thursday last week after falling ill during a game between Oxford University Press and Watlington Town the previous day.

Friend Michael Truby described Wayne, thought to be in his 40s, as the "nicest guy you'd meet," adding that he was "shocked and gutted" at his death.

Cinema plan for historic Abbey Hall

By Owen Hughes

DISCUSSIONS are under way to turn the vacant Abbey Hall into an independent cinema.

The venue has been empty since 2015 and could soon be in use as a temporary home for independent cinema chain The Regal Cinema – who currently use the Unicorn Theatre – until a more permanent solution can be found for the space.

Abingdon Mayor Cllr Jan Morter said: "I am pleased to support negotiations for an interim cinema to open in the Abbey Hall, until the long-term future of the Abbey Hall is confirmed.

"I've experienced three visits to the Unicorn, enjoying its central town location and that we can all walk to the cinema.

"I'm sure the Regal will provide a similarly convenient experience."

The dormant Abbey Hall and Guildhall costs Abingdon Town Council "about £150,000 per year to run" according to former councillor Iain Littlejohn, who ran the Guildhall committee until 2015.

Mr Littlejohn has raised more than 1,900 signatures to petition the council to use a £1.2million Vale grant to renovate rather than sell the Abbey Hall for development, and to maintain an 18th century Guildhall staircase.

Almost 200 supporters were ready to raise concerns over the unused council-owned building at a special parish meeting last month, but nearly half were turned away due to a lack of space.

A second meeting was held a week later on January 22 for those unable to attend the first meeting.

Mr Littlejohn said: "The mood of that meeting was asking the council to think again and the council have promised to publish minutes.

"What I would say is the minutes don't really show what was clapped and what wasn't."

He added that the reception given for a cinema to open in the building was largely positive.

"We were relatively pleased by the last meeting and the tone was a bit more conciliatory.

"The council did seem to realise that there is quite a lot of public opinion that we need to keep the Abbey Hall and that it's a valuable facility, but whether they choose to act on that, we shall wait and see."

Tuck shop with a difference

CHILLI and Garlic Chapulines may sound like something you would find on the menu at a five-star restaurant, but these crunchy grasshoppers are more likely to be found on a bush tucker trial.

Year 8 pupils at Didcot Girls' School were treated to a taste of the future with a platter of grubs and bugs during a lesson on food and protein alternatives last week.

Zimbabwean mopane worms, silkworm pupae, wild black ants, mealworms and locusts were the cuisine of choice provided by edible insect supplier Crunchy Critters.

Food preparation and nutrition teacher Sara Jones said: "I promise no force feeding was done, although a few squeals could be heard from my room.

"It was a really fun lesson and the girls got really involved which was brilliant because it could have gone either way.

"Not everyone was brave enough to try them all (me included) but everyone will certainly remember the lesson about the future of food."

Researchers at the United Nations have proposed entomophagy – the eating of insects, arachnids and myriapods – as an alternative source of protein for future generations.

Insects emit fewer greenhouse gases than traditional livestock and do not require as much land for farming.

A34 services plan

FEEDBACK is being sought on a plan for a 12-pump petrol station with a drive-through food and drink outlet on the A34 in south Oxfordshire.

Chilton Services would be located on the Northbound slip at the A4185 near Wyevale Garden Centre.

Charging points for electric cars and restrictions for HGVs would be included. Community website www.a34chiltonservies.co.uk has been set up by developers SP Broadway who are "seeking community feedback as part of the public consultation".

Nando's is coming

THE much-anticipated opening of Nando's in Didcot has now been confirmed by the developer.

The £50million Orchard Centre expansion will include 21 shops and seven cafes and restaurants.

Phase II of the centre will also deliver an additional 325 parking spaces bringing the total at the retail park to 875.

South Oxfordshire District Council leader John Cotton welcomed the news. He said: "With the expansion of the Orchard Centre and ongoing plans for the garden town, Didcot is fast becoming a genuine destination for shoppers and visitors alike. We are delighted Nando's is coming to Didcot and know the restaurant will be extremely popular with many coming into the town centre."

Developer Hammerson said attracting brands such as Nando's is testament to the appeal of the Orchard Centre.

Phase II to due to open in the spring.

Power station inquiry continues in bid to seek justice for families

By George Welch

AN investigation into the collapse of one of Didcot's most iconic landmarks continues, nearly two years after the disaster which cost the lives of four men.

Detective Chief Inspector Craig Kirby said the investigation was ongoing 'due to its complexity' as police lead the inquiry into why the boiler house at Didcot 'A' Power Station partially collapsed on February 23, 2016.

In a statement following a pre-inquest hearing on Wednesday last week, the senior investigating officer said: "We continue to carry out a thorough investigation in order to obtain answers for the affected families and friends who lost their loved ones, and those who were injured following the partial collapse at Didcot.

"This is an extremely wide scale and hugely complex investigation."

More than 1,900 witness statements have been taken by investigators with more to be undertaken – police still say it is impossible to put a timeframe on the completion of their investigation.

Contractor Coleman & Company, which was responsible for the demolition, said its own investigations 'clearly show' why and how the boiler house collapsed.

In a statement, also made after the hearing at County Hall, director James Howard said there are no grounds to show the company should be associated with a manslaughter investigation.

> "We continue to carry out a thorough investigation in order to obtain answers..."
> DCI Craig Kirby, senior investigating officer

The claim comes after police submitted an initial file to the CPS at the end of December for investigative advice.

The findings, the firm said, instead 'highlight industry-wide practices that need to be challenged and reviewed'.

Mr Howard's statement continued: "We now consider it essential to share this learning as a matter of urgency, so that immediate steps can be taken within the industry to prevent future loss of life and so that the families can begin to understand what caused this dreadful accident."

The statement added that the company would write to the police and the Health and Safety Executive on the matter.

The boiler house at Didcot Power Station collapsed killing four men

Meanwhile, clearance of boilers one and two has been completed and contractors continue to clear boilers three and four. Work will be completed by spring, police said.

The site remains a crime scene with officers present 24/7.

Ch Insp Kirby added: "TVP and HSE remain committed to carrying out a thorough investigation to ascertain if any criminal or health and safety related offences have taken place, and to obtain justice for the families and all those affected."

Ken Cresswell, 57, and John Shaw, 61, both from Rotherham, Mick Collings, 53 from North Yorkshire and Christopher Huxtable, 34 from Swansea, all died in the collapse.

Parking change

WAITROSE Abingdon wants to charge its customers for parking.

The food retailer has submitted a planning application for three automatic number plate recognition cameras as the Abbey Close store prepares to upgrade to a pay on foot system.

Under the new system drivers pay at a machine before returning to their vehicle. Waitrose said it will 'help improve parking availability'.

Breakfast speaker

THE key note speaker for this year's South and Vale business breakfast is Matt Wright, the managing director of Hachette UK Distribution.

He will talk about his career and the publishing company's plans to build a major new facility in Didcot.

It will be held at the Satellite Application Catapult on Harwell campus on February 20 and is free.

Area plan revealed

RESIDENTS in Warborough and Shillingford can have a say in how their community grows and develops over the coming years after the parish council submitted its neighbourhood plan.

Launched last week, comments on the plan can be made until Wednesday, March 14.

Visit tinyurl.com/ycfrkoj2 for more information.

Marina will cause 'environmental damage'

WALLINGFORD'S proposed marina will have a "huge detrimental impact" on the area during construction.

Wallingford councillor Lynda Atkins was among 100 people who met developers London Rock and Greenfield Associates at last month's public consultation on the proposed 320-berth marina.

She said: "My overriding concern was that it is being presented as a bid to provide a new facility for the town, and trying to minimise any mention of the five-years of gravel digging.

"That work will have a huge detrimental impact on the area and it needs to be clearly explained (which it wasn't at the consultation).

"There may be positive economic benefits, but it cannot be allowed at the cost of real environmental damage for a number of years."

Greenfield Associates said that overall "there appeared to be support" and potential conflict between boat users and rowers "will be addressed as part of the application".

The company will submit its planning application with an environmental statement before Easter.

Plans for the marina can be viewed online at www.londonrock.co.uk/wallingford

Climbing peak a real high for trekkers

AN Oxfordshire businessman who helped raise more than £100,000 for rural communities in east Africa said it was a "fabulous feeling" to climb Uganda's highest peak.

Farm Africa's chair Richard Macdonald from South Moreton, was one of 13 leading food industry figures who made the trek up Mount Elgon last month.

He wrote in a blog from the edge of the volcano's crater on day six of the trek that everyone was in "great form".

He said: "After chiselling our way out of our tents to a heavy frost, we were treated to an amazing breakfast by our cook Jackie, who is doing an incredible job. It's hard to convey quite how remote our camp is, we have to carry everything and the food is prepared over a gas fire in a tiny tent."

Richard added: "The climb is punishingly steep and you have to shuffle up tiny steps to reach the top. After four and a half hours of relentless and gruelling trekking, we reached the peak."

The journey which raised funds for Farm Africa to help young farmers in the region develop sustainable businesses, took the businessmen through a never before walked 100km route on the Kenya-Uganda border.

Enthusiasts rally round classic cars

SCORES of people lined the streets of Banbury to catch a glimpse of the iconic Monte Carlo Rally.

One by one drivers taking part in the famous Rallye Monte Carlo Historique and Classique, stopped off in Banbury, one of the official passage control points.

It was the first time in 50 years the rally stopped in the town – and last Thursday classic cars of all shapes and sizes parked up in Bridge Street and Market Place.

Monte Carlo drivers started arriving in the town from 11am, having travelled from Barnby Moor in Nottinghamshire.

Cherwell District Council chairman Cllr Maurice Billington, who welcomed the drivers at Banbury Town Hall, said: "The Monte Carlo Rally event has been a great success and I am really glad that residents and visitors have enjoyed it.

"The high attendance, even on a weekday, is an international recognition for Banbury as a key place for motorsport.

Local classic and racing car businesses also staged an exhibition of vehicles in the town.

Among those taking part were Prodrive, Nissan, BGM, Tuthill Porsche and Cropredy Bridge, as well as a number of private owners.

Douglas Anderson, coordinator of the UK leg of the rally, said:

Historic and classic cars drew the crowds in Banbury on Thursday as part of the Monte Carlo Rally

"We chose Banbury because it is located in the centre of the motorsport valley and, given the successful turn out for the Monte Carlo passage, I must say we made the right choice."

The 1,500-mile rally finished in Monaco on Sunday.

MP: Hospice must be given financial help to continue its work

By Eva Astreinidou

HEALTH bodies need to step in to help a hospice cope with mounting financial issues.

Oxford East MP Anneliese Dodds has called on Oxfordshire Clinical Commissioning Group to help Helen & Douglas House which last week announced it would have to close one of its care hubs to ensure its long-term survival.

The charity predicts it will have a £2.5m deficit by the end of March due to a shortfall in funding. In addition to closing its hub for young people aged 18-35, it will also have to axe 35 jobs.

Ms Dodds said: "I know the very valuable work that Helen & Douglas House does. There really is no facility like it.

"Perhaps the local Clinical Commissioning Group could find a way to help, especially if this could help generate additional, sustainable, funding."

In a statement released last week, a spokesperson for Helen & Douglas House which provides end of life care and support to families, said one of the challenges the charity faces is that local clinical commissioning groups have different approaches to how much financial support they can provide.

They added: "Many support the charity but Oxfordshire's CCG does not. Over 40 per cent of the care we provide is to children who live in Oxfordshire. Given the decisions we are now having to make, we hope that further discussions may lead to a change in this approach."

Diane Hedges, chief operating officer at OCCG, said: "We are sorry to hear that Helen & Douglas House is having to change the service it provides.

"Going forward, the CCG will work with [the charity] to ensure those patients being cared for, from Oxfordshire, will continue to receive any essential healthcare which is currently provided by the charity.

"The CCG keeps all these palliative care services under review as required and Helen & Douglas House can bid for contracts. We also meet regularly with end of life care stakeholders and providers in Oxfordshire."

She added that the CCG commissions end of life care for people over the age of 18 from Michael Sobell House in Oxford, Sue Ryder hospice in south Oxfordshire and Katharine House hospice in north Oxfordshire.

Helen & Douglas House has said it will help its young adult patients access alternative care where available in the community, while they plan to continue to provide specialist palliative care for terminally ill children and young people aged 0-18 years old both at Helen House and at home.

Inquest told of strange behaviour before blast

By Eva Astreinidou

AN explosion that tore through a block of flats is believed to have been caused by petrol fumes igniting.

Almost a year since homes in Gibbs Crescent, West Oxford, were destroyed in a Valentine's Day blast, the first details of a lengthy investigation have emerged.

An inquest at Oxford Coroner's Court yesterday heard the remains of Guido Schuette, 46, were found in the rubble on February 18.

The court was told Mr Schuette had four vehicles and collected car parts which he stored in the flat.

Detective Sergeant David Whittle and fire service station manager Bob Speakman said they found large quantities of petrol fuel, as well as a pair of crocodile clips attached to a car battery near the remains.

DS Whittle said the fuel was likely to have been stored there to use as a solvent to clean car parts, rather than for the intention of self-harm or harm to others.

Mr Speakman agreed, adding the flat appeared to be more of a workshop than a place of residence.

DS Whittle said police officers had been called to Mr Schuette's flat after reports of screaming just days before the incident, on February 10.

The explosion at the flats in Gibbs Crescent last year and inset, Guido Schuette who was killed in the blast

PC McKeegan, who was one of the officers who attended, said they had to force their way into the flat due to concerns over welfare.

In a statement read to the court, neighbour Darren Vernon, who alerted the police, said he had heard Mr Schuette screaming: "Everyone wake up, it is the master, the master is here".

Mr Vernon said he was aware Mr Schuette had stored fuel in his flat, and he was afraid Mr Schuette might do something to cause harm using the fuel.

The court also heard from another neighbour who was involved in a harassment dispute with Mr Schuette.

Statements from family members were also read out in court, in which he was described as a 'loner'.

The inquest was ongoing as we went to press.

Man on bicycle groped women

POLICE are on the lookout for a serial groper who sexually assaulted an Oxford woman from his bicycle.

An e-fit image has been released following the incident which took place on December 6 at about 6.30pm on the cycle path in Marston Ferry Road.

The offender stopped his bicycle to let a 45-year-old woman pass before attempting to touch her inappropriately.

He remained in the area watching the victim for another few seconds before cycling away.

Police believe the offender could have links to four other assaults in Oxford since November last year.

The first occurred in Lime Walk, Headington, on November 15, and three others occurred on the Marston Ferry Road on January 11, 18 and 28.

In each case, the offender touched women inappropriately from his bicycle.

The man is described as a gaunt and skinny white man aged in his early twenties, wearing dark clothing and a beanie hat during each incident.

The man is thought to have worn a beanie hat and dark clothing during the four sexual assaults

Investigating officer, PC Rebecca Nightingale, based at Banbury police station, said: "We would like to speak to anyone who recognises this man or who has any information which could help us identify the person in this e-fit image."

Witnesses or anyone with information should call Thames Valley Police on 101 quoting reference 43170363277, or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

The magic of Quidditch at Brookes

THE country's finest seekers, chasers and beaters will bring the magic to Oxford after the city was selected to host the British Quidditch Cup.

The Harry Potter inspired competition will take place at Brookes Sport in Botley on March 24 and 25 and feature 32 teams.

Organiser Quidditch UK says more than 800 people play the sport, which also draws on rugby and dodgeball, and participation is growing.

4,000km challenge to help cancer research

By Owen Hughes

Kate, left, and Anna have been training on the Thames at Donnington Bridge Road, Oxford
Donations can be made at: https://uk.virginmoneygiving.com/KayakingTheContinent

ADVENTURERS from Oxford are kayaking 4,000km from England to Romania to raise funds for a pancreatic cancer charity.

Anna Blackwell, 24, from Summertown, and Kate Culverwell, 19, from Headington, will begin paddling across Europe in April, navigating their way from the English Channel to the Black Sea over four months.

The former Headington School pupils are hoping their tandem kayak through 13 countries and four capital cities can raise £50,000 for Pancreatic Cancer Action.

Kate's father died from the disease in 2015 mid-way through her A-levels.

Anna, who will quit her part-time job with an Oxford-based legal firm to become a full-time adventurer, said: "Pancreatic cancer is one of the least funded and least researched cancers that there is and it's on its way to being one of the top five cancer killers in Europe.

"Despite that, there's still so little funding put into it; I think it's less than one per cent of Cancer Research UK's funding that actually goes to pancreatic cancer.

"A big part of our trip is raising awareness of this disease and trying to raise as much money as we can for it."

Anna and Kate are preparing for the trip with a gruelling training regime in the gym and out on the water at Falcon Rowing and Canoe Club in Iffley.

Anna added: "Tuesday morning when it was -2°C, I was on the river in the dark, which was an experience, but we're normally in the gym for at least an hour and a half before work with one day off a week."

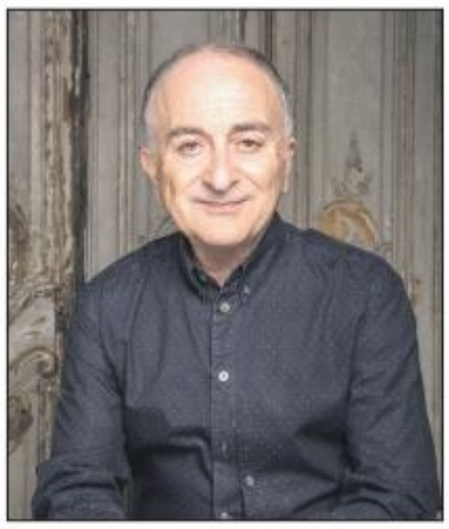
Supported by the Young Explorers' Trust, the pair will also contribute data to a global citizen science project for FreshWater Watch measuring the effects of urban areas on phosphate and nitrate levels and living organisms in Europe's waterways.

Anna said: "If tracking 4,000km wasn't enough for us to be dealing with, we thought we'd chuck something else into the mix.

"Kate's a musician and I did a psychology degree, so we're both completely new to this kind of research."

A spokesperson for Pancreatic Cancer Action said: "Kate and Anna are taking on an incredibly tough challenge. We can't wait to see what these brave girls achieve."

Cunning plan to meet Sir Tony at first Comic Con



Sir Tony Robinson will be at Abingdon & Witney College in April

BLACKADDER and Time Team star Sir Tony Robinson is the latest headline guest announced for a new comic convention coming to Oxfordshire.

The comedy legend will meet fans, sign autographs and take part in a live Q&A session during the inaugural Thames Con at Abingdon and Witney College's Abingdon campus on April 28.

The comic actor shot to fame in his role as Baldrick in the classic BBC sitcom Blackadder and more recently presented the popular archaeology programme Time Team during its 19-year run.

In 2006, he was granted an honorary doctorate from Oxford Brookes University before receiving a Knighthood in 2013.

Festival organiser Zainab Mirmalek said: "I wanted to create an event that had something for everyone, that's really inclusive and also entertaining.

"To have Sir Tony joining us for our first event is very exciting, I loved his comedic roles as a child and couldn't think of a better headline guest for Thames Con."

Hollywood stunt group 3RUN, who have worked on The Avengers, Star Wars and Pirates of the Caribbean, will be performing parkour for festival goers.

Blue Peter presenter Lindsey Russell, comicbook artist Lee Townsend, movie prop maestro Dangerous BoB, and Game of Thrones actors Josef Altin and Ross Mullan will also feature.

Horton campaigners join protest to highlight concerns about NHS

By Samantha McGregor

DOZENS of protestors rallied at the Horton Hospital as part of a nationwide campaign to highlight concerns about the NHS.

Thousands of people, including members of the Keep the Horton General campaign group, marched in London to share their anger over the mounting crisis facing the NHS

While up to 60 people staged their own protest at the Banbury hospital, in Oxford Road, on Saturday.

Labour group leader Sean Woodcock, who attended the Banbury protest, said: "There was a good crowd considering the poor weather and late notice.

"It was important to go along and show that there are still people willing to fight for our hospital. Determination among those who attended remains."

Sue Edgar, chair of Labour Health Matters, a working group of the Banbury and Bicester constituency Labour Party, welcomed the local protest and said the group would continue to "battle to prevent irreparable harm being done to our local communities through the loss of a fully functioning hospital".

It comes as North Oxfordshire MP Victoria Prentis raised concerns about "lines of communication" between herself, Oxfordshire Clinical Commissioning Group and Oxford University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust, about maternity services.

Campaigners gathered at the Horton on Saturday in solidarity with a rally in London

Last month, midwives had to be drafted into Oxford's John Radcliffe Hospital, from around the county meaning a reduced and cancelled service at some other midwife-led units.

Mrs Prentis said: "I was extremely disappointed to find out that the Horton MLU has been closed on two separate occasions in recent weeks.

"It should not be for my constituents to tell me what is going on, but for the Trust to come to me with the information I need to allay people's concerns.

"I have made no secret of the fact that I feel lines of communication are poor; since changes to obstetric services were first announced in the summer of 2016, it has been very difficult to extract the relevant information.

"I continue to make my views known to both the Trust and local Clinical Commissioning Group at every opportunity, and remain committed to fight for the future of the Horton General Hospital."

OUH Trust said it had experienced "an unusually high level of demand on our maternity unit at the John Radcliffe Hospital" over the weekend of January 20 and 21, and in line with processes on-call midwives were drafted in. It said the Horton unit remained open.

Dame Fiona Caldicott, chairman of Oxford University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust, says: "We were disappointed to hear Victoria Prentis' comments.

"We strive to be as open and transparent as possible with our patients, governors, local communities and MPs.

"Our board meetings are held in public with papers published on our website in advance."

Ram raid attempt

POLICE are on the hunt for more ram raiders after vandals failed in the latest bid to steal an in-store cash machine.

The latest attempt is the fourth incident across Oxfordshire within two months.

Saturday night's raid involved a stolen Land Rover Discovery being reversed into the Aldi store at Horspath Driftway, Oxford at around 11.50pm to try and remove the cash machine from inside the store.

Defeated, they abandoned the 4x4 and fled the scene on foot.

The latest ram raid on a supermarket follows similar raids in Chipping Norton in December and in Charlbury and Grove last month.

Police have not said whether the raids are linked.

Contact police on 101 quoting reference 1461 3/2 if you have any information on the latest incident.

Housing for all bid

THAME Town Council is looking for volunteers to set up and run a Community Land Trust.

The aim is to provide 'genuinely' affordable housing and to aid first time buyers.

Volunteers should have a background in architecture, planning, building of small estates, finance, law and charity governance.

Zambia cycle in memory of his brother

By Samantha McGregor

A BANBURY man is gearing up to ride hundreds of miles to raise cash in memory of his brother.

Alfred Chipembele wants to raise £3,650 for a road safety project in Zambia run by charity Transaid.

Alfred, who works at Banbury's DAR Lighting, will cycle in memory of his brother Millios Tembo who was killed at a Zebra crossing in Lusaka in Zambia.

Now Alfred has now joined a global effort to prevent road deaths in his native Zambia.

He is in training for Transaid's Cycle Zambia 2018, in which he will ride 490kilometres from Lusaka to Victoria Falls in Zambia.

Alfred Chipembele gears up to cycle 490km in memory of his brother who was killed in Lusaka

Alfred said: "I have joined colleagues on a campaign mission to create road safety awareness in an effort to reduce road traffic accidents in Zambia and Africa in general.

"In March 2008 my own elder brother Millios Tembo – a professional driver himself was just two years away from his retirement – lost his life together with his friend at a zebra crossing after being hit by a minibus driver in Lusaka.

"I believe many such horrific accidents can be prevented if driver training and government road safety policy makers put more emphasis on the importance of road safety and driving standards.

"The prevalence of road traffic accidents in Zambia cannot be over emphasised, destroying lives and delaying the economic and social progress of the nation.

"It is for these reasons and in memory of all those loved ones who have been lost as a result of reckless driving and defective vehicles that I have decided to be part of the Cycle Zambia challenge."

According to the World Bank, road deaths are the third biggest killer in sub Saharan Africa after HIV/AIDS and Malaria.

Another successful road safety scheme run by Transaid is the Zambia Professional Driver Training initiative.

Couple jailed for running brothel in Oxford

A COUPLE who ran brothels in locations across the country, including one in Oxford, have been jailed.

Martin Cheetham and Christina Motta, pictured, admitted running brothels in Cowley, as well as Bristol and Milton Keynes between November 2015 and April 2016 – making more than £24,000.

The couple also pleaded guilty to controlling prostitution for gain in relation to one woman found in the Bristol address who they created and maintained online escort adverts for and arranged for travel between brothels.

Appearing at Bristol Crown Court on January 12, Cheetham, 42 and Motta, 35, of Milton Keynes, were sentenced to 12 months and 18 months in prison respectively.

Detective Constable Dale Morgan said: "Cheetham and Motta deliberately took advantage of these vulnerable women working in their brothels. It is unacceptable they should benefit from their activities and we will seek to confiscate their illegal earnings through the Proceeds of Crime Act.

"It took immense courage for the victim to support our inquiry and I hope these sentences will give other victims of controlled prostitution and modern slavery the strength and belief to come forward."

Concern over plan to convert hotel into retirement homes

VILLAGERS in Wheatley are resisting plans to turn a 'historic' hotel into 16 retirement homes.

The plans include demolishing the former Railway Inn to make way for a three-storey building providing homes for people aged 55 and over.

But several residents have called for the plans for the site in Station Road to be refused citing their overbearing nature and risks to safety.

Commenting on the plans, Wheatley resident B Froderman said: "I have chosen to live here because of the views and very much enjoy the light I get through a large window.

"I would not get any sunlight at all unless the building would be one level only. In addition I am concerned about noise pollution due to the high number of proposed apartments."

Other residents said the plans would put people at risk due to increased traffic flow.

Richard Robinson said: "As this through route is so busy, senior pedestrian movements may be put as risk through the lack of a safe crossing point."

Wheatley Parish Council also objected to the plans, adding that there would be inadequate parking spaces for the number and size of the residences.

South Oxfordshire District Council planning committee met to discuss the controversial proposals yesterday.

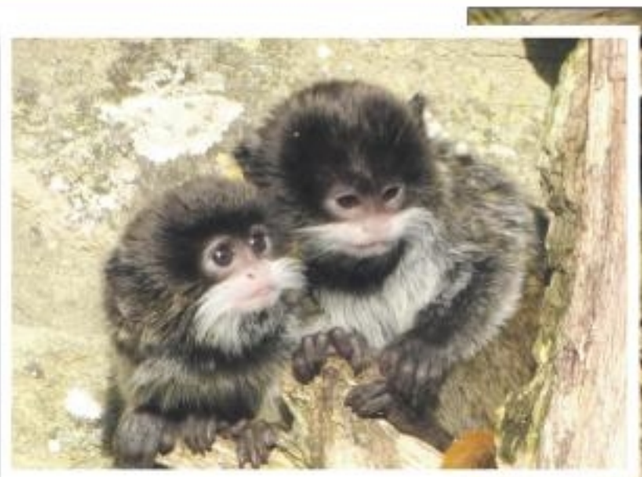
Hunter Page, the agents working on behalf of developers Beechcroft, were contacted for comment.

Flying the flag for LGBTQ+

THE start of LGBTQ+ history month was marked with flags flying across Oxford.

Events across the city will feature messages of inclusion, equality and diversity and throughout the month, Oxford University museums will host their second 'Out in Oxford' trail to remind visitors LGBTQ+ people have always been an integral part of life.

Last year's inaugural tour marked the 50th anniversary of the partial decriminalization of homosexuality in England and Wales.



Tamarin twins take a sneaky peak at park

FURRY moustachioed animals welcomed two new additions to their family in Oxfordshire.

Cotswold Wildlife Park is celebrating the arrival of emperor tamarin twins, a species that usually comes from the tropical climates of Brazil and Peru.

The as-yet-unnamed and unsexed twins, weighing just 35g, are on show in their enclosure at the park.

The babies are now enjoying bonding with their parents, while the father takes on the majority of duties by placing each newborn on his back and passing the babies back to the mother to be suckled.

Deputy section head of primates, Natalie Horner said: "Male tamarins take an active role in rearing their young by carrying and caring for the infants the majority of the time. The babies only return to their mother to feed. They even teach the older youngsters how to care for their younger siblings, which is an important part of their development."

With spectacular crests, ear tufts and moustaches, emperor tamarins are incredible animals

Virtual reality help for mental health patients

By George Welch

GROUND-BREAKING treatment that could transform the lives of mental health patients will be pioneered in Oxford as part of a £4million project.

The National Institute of Health Research (NIHR) last week awarded the grant to enable state-of-the-art therapy for mental health issues to be delivered via virtual reality in the NHS.

Health chiefs want to use Oxford University spinout and virtual reality business Nowican alongside NHS trusts, universities, a mental health charity and the Royal College of Art to design the product.

It works by patients using VR headsets to combat tasks and simulations they may find distressing in real-life.

The VR coach will guide them through the simulations and practise techniques to overcome their difficulties.

The practice is based on the theory that patients find this sort of thing easier in the virtual world.

Project lead, Professor Daniel Freeman from Oxford University's Department of Psychiatry, said: "Our project will see one of the most exciting and powerful new technologies implemented in the NHS for the first time.

A virtual reality coach will guide patients through scenarios helping to treat conditions such as depression and anxiety

"Virtual reality treatment can help patients transform their lives. When people put on our headsets, a virtual coach takes them into computer-generated simulations of the situations they find troubling.

"The coach guides the patient through these scenarios, helping them practise techniques to overcome their difficulties.

"Patients often find it easier to do this work in the virtual world – and they enjoy using our VR applications – but the beauty is that the benefits transfer to the real world."

Over the next three years the virtual reality treatment will be designed with input from those with mental health problems to ensure it is simple to use, engaging, and right for patient needs.

A large multi-centre clinical trial in NHS trusts across the country will then take place before it is rolled out across the country.

If the trial is successful it could pave the way for VR treatments for common mental health disorders such as depression or anxiety.

More pothole cash

MORE government cash has been thrown at fixing Oxfordshire's roads to tackle the effects of a tough winter.

Oxfordshire County Council has recruited more workers to deal with problems on its roads as the number of reports on Fix My Street rose from 3,000 before Christmas to 7,000 during January.

A new 'dragon patcher' – named because of its nozzle that blasts potholes with flames – will also roar into action later this month.

The council received £1m from the Department for Transport to deal with the impact of the bad weather, which has included repeated cycles of ice, thaws and snow.

Defects reported include signs, blocked drains and potholes.

Contractors Skanska are sending out more teams to carry our repairs while council inspectors work across the county to assess the public's defect reports.

Visit tinyurl.com/y8jarbsg to report a problem.

A blitz on names

THAME Town Council has announced the names of its new snow plough – Betsy Blitzer & Percy Plough.

It comes after the council threw down the gauntlet to residents asking them to put forward names for the snow plough on social networking site Twitter.

Blending town and gown to create the spirit of Oxford

By Karen Neville

A TRUE blend of old and new have created something very special in Oxford joining town and gown in a unique way.

The University of Oxford together with The Oxford Artisan Distillery have launched Physic Gin using the historic botanic gardens and the city's very own gin distillery.

Unveiled last week, the spirit has come out of a 25-year licence, thought to be the first of its kind granted by the university, allowing the distillery in partnership with the uni to create Oxford-branded spirits.

TOAD opened in Cheney Lane in July last year and uses ancient grains, grown exclusively for it in fields near Oxford – one of the factors which first attracted the director of Oxford Botanic Garden, Professor Simon Hiscock, to the project.

He said: "I had always felt gin would go down well in a botanic garden, so when I met Tom [Nicholson, founder of TOAD] and discovered that Oxford was about to get its first craft distillery, the opportunity was too hard to resist."

And from there the spirit began to take shape.

TOAD and the garden began a three-year collaboration which gave the distiller exclusive access to university resources and expertise.

The outcome of which, Physic Gin, celebrates the 400-year-old history and current usage of the Botanic Garden which was founded for the teaching of herbal medicine.

Today, 25 of those botanicals mostly foraged in the garden, give Physic Gin its unique flavour – the recipe for which is kept under lock and key.

Professor Hiscock had to pass an exam to gain a personal licence to allow the sale of the spirit at the Botanic Garden and acknowledged he was probably the first holder of an alcoholic licence there since the 1640s.

Mr Nicholson, whose distillery also produces vodka, whiskey and absinthe, called the production of the gin a "true town and gown partnership".

He said: "The city's distillery is working closely with university departments, academics and experts to create superb spirits.

"We are of course highly privileged and can confidently promise a range of world class spirits, all bearing the revered Oxford brand."

Professor Hiscock added: "I'm looking forward to making spirits inspired by our historical collections and having some botanical fun along the way."

Plan for heat use

EXCESS heat from industrial sites will be used to warm buildings in and around Didcot Garden Town in radical new council plans to reduce its environmental impact.

South Oxfordshire and the Vale of White Horse district councils will work together to redistribute heat from Didcot B Power Station via a 'district heat network' of underground pipes.

SODC leader John Cotton said: "We've asked the government for some funding to investigate it further and, if we get that, we will carry out the detailed design and viability work to see if a north Didcot combined heat and power scheme can become reality."

The government plans to cut greenhouse gas emissions by 80 per cent by 2050.

The first two preliminary feasibility studies have been completed and the council will seek government funding later in the year.

Join town tidy up

RESIDENTS are being asked to save the date for the next Thame Tidy Up which takes place on Saturday, March 17.

It will be a chance for the community to get together and clear the town of litter.

For more information or to sign up see the Thame Tidy page on social networking site Facebook.

Expressway: 'Give people their say'

AN Oxfordshire MEP has branded a lack of consultation on the potential £3.5bn Oxford to Cambridge expressway as 'illegal'.

In a scathing letter to the chief executive of Highways England, Keith Taylor, a Green MEP for the South East, said the lack of a potential public discussion of the proposed road breaches international environmental law.

In his letter, Mr Taylor, who opposes the project but supports a 'regionally important' electrified East-West rail link, claims the expressway contravenes the Aarhus Convention. As the UK is still part of the EU the convention means a 'meaningful public participation in major decisions which impact upon the environment' should be undertaken.

He said it is a "disgraceful and potentially illegal decision to try to push ahead with the environment-destructive project without first consulting the public".

"Wherever it is situated, it will have a significant impact on residents, communities, air quality and the environment," he added.

A Highways England spokesperson said: "Since November 2016, when three broad options for a proposed Oxford to Cambridge Expressway were published we've been taking forward more detailed work to help further design and analysis.

"We are committed to a full consultation process so people can help shape the plans."

Helping you to get fit and lose weight

DOCTORS and other health professionals combined forces with Oxfordshire County Council to launch a healthy lifestyle service aimed at reducing obesity in the county.

Achieve Healthy Weight Loss Oxfordshire offers free weight loss programmes, available at more than 50 locations across the county, for those wanting to shed those extra pounds.

Most service users will be referred by health professionals, although people can self-refer themselves providing they meet the criteria.

The service, operated by London-based provider Thrive Tribe, also provides a men's only 'MAN v FAT' football league weight loss initiative.

Councillor Hillary Hibbert-Biles, county council cabinet member for public health, said at the launch event last week that tackling obesity is key to preventing chronic disease and is one of the authority's health priorities.

NHS figures publicised last year revealed that one in three children in Oxfordshire are overweight or obese.

Cllr Hibbert-Biles added: "It is important that health professionals across the county know about the service and refer their patients to the new service where appropriate."

Details of the free-to-use services offered can be found at achieveoxfordshire.org.uk or by calling 01865 338119.

Oxfordshire Guardian & The Oxford Paper charity of the year 2018 – Helen & Douglas House

Giving help to families when it's needed most

By George Welch

AFTER a huge response from our readers, the Oxfordshire Guardian and The Oxford Paper's Charity of the Year 2018 has been decided.

We can now reveal that our chosen charity for the year ahead is Helen & Douglas House.

The hospice cares for terminally ill children, young adults and their families.

The 'home from home' provides medical, emotional and practical support, helping families deal with the implications of living with a child who will die prematurely, so they can make the most of their time together.

As a charity it relies on donations to support these families and cannot do this without the generosity of the public, including you, our readers.

The partnership, which aims to highlight the loving work of carers and volunteers as well as the experiences of the children and families, comes after Helen & Douglas House, based just off Cowley Road, announced it was to close Douglas House which caters for 18-35 year olds amid a shortfall in funding.

Chief executive Clare Periton said: "We are so delighted to have been chosen as the Oxfordshire Guardian and The Oxford Paper's Charity of the Year.

"The money raised will make a real difference to local terminally ill children and their families, who we care for at Helen & Douglas House and at home.

"We were very sad to have to announce last week that Douglas House will be closing in August but we continue to need your help to raise essential funds to care for our patients with respite care, symptom management, end-of-life and bereavement support.

"We are operating in a challenging and competitive fundraising environment so we are so very grateful to the Oxfordshire Guardian and The Oxford Paper for giving us the opportunity to tell you more about the lives of our families, staff and volunteers as well as our events to raise money to help terminally ill children."

Karen Neville, group editor of the Oxfordshire Guardian and The Oxford Paper, said: "We were overwhelmed by the number of nominations we received for the charity for us to support this year.

"It really represents the diversity of organisations in Oxfordshire which are doing such good works.

"Helen & Douglas House has supported and helped so many families during the toughest times and its staff and volunteers do the most amazing job in very challenging circumstances.

"We are delighted to be giving them our support and hope the relationship with them can prove to be as worthwhile as last year's with Play2Give."

■ Other worthy charities shortlisted for the vote were:

Response Giving
Charity Santa
Dogs for Good
Guide Dogs for the Blind
Oxfordshire Animal Sanctuary
Footsteps Foundation
Assisted Reading for Children in Oxfordshire
Children Heard and Seen
SERV OBN Blood Bikes (Ox, Bucks, Berks, and N'hants)
Teenage Cancer Trust
Daybreak
Parkinson's UK Oxford
Sue Ryder (Henley).

We will be featuring as many of these charities as possible over the coming weeks.

Helen & Douglas House
hospice care for children and young adults

Brief history: A world first

BASED in East Oxford, Helen & Douglas House started life in November 1982, when Helen House and the children's hospice movement was founded by Sister Frances Dominica.

As the world's first children's hospice, Helen House has gone on to inspire 49 others across the UK and around the world.

The inspiration for Helen House came from a little girl called Helen who was left with severe and irreversible brain damage after an emergency operation to remove a brain tumour.

Helen's parents took her home from hospital to care for her in her family surroundings. A friendship developed between Sister Frances and Helen's parents and on occasions Sister Frances looked after Helen for short periods to give her parents a break.

From this friendship the idea of a small homely hospice for children developed.

Helen House, for children, opened that year and was followed by Douglas House in 2004 as a hospice for young adults.

The 'challenging and highly competitive fundraising environment' has caused the charity to fall on harder times of late, and sadly from August, the closure of Douglas House.

This means it will revert to its original children-only model, reducing its age range from 0-35 to 0-18, impacting more than a third of patients.

Family stories: 'Ollie was a child having fun'

OLLIE had grade 2 brain damage resulting in multiple and complex conditions including cerebral palsy, epilepsy, scoliosis and visual impairment.

Ollie sadly died in 2014 aged seven at Helen House.

His mum Marie remembers how going to Helen House helped her son.

She said: "Ollie loved going to the sensory room at Helen House, with the lights and the music in there. It's the whole atmosphere. He also loved the art room and having his hands put in paint.

"I loved finding paint and glitter on his wheelchair when he got home, because to me it showed he is a child and he was having fun."

Nurse consultant Karen Brombley and the outreach nurses also provided support at home for Ollie who also had development delay, learning difficulties and was tube fed.

Marie said: "Karen Brombley has been a fantastic support at home. She made sure that not just Ollie was okay, but the whole family.

Ollie enjoyed the play therapy offered at Helen House

"She was a great help putting things in place; planning so that everyone knew what we wanted to happen for Ollie as a family. Normally you have to repeat everything; it's like a broken record. Everything was put in place. I could concentrate on Ollie.

"Ollie may no longer be with us physically, but a part of him will always be at Helen House.

"The love and support we received from Helen & Douglas House over the years and especially towards the end means so much to us as a family."

'The only place I'll leave Nathan'

NATHAN has Prader-Willi Syndrome, a severe life-shortening condition. He loves coming to Helen House for respite care.

His mum Jenny says: "It's the only place I will leave Nathan. The care he receives at Helen House, both physically and mentally, is brilliant."

Actress up for rising star award

By Eva Astreinidou

AN Oxford-born actress is in the running for the prestigious EE Rising Star award at the BAFTAs.

Florence Pugh always knew she wanted to perform and the hard work has now paid off.

In addition to the nomination, the 22-year-old has three films due to be released this year, one of which she stars alongside Dwayne 'The Rock' Johnson.

But it was her performance as Katherine in Lady Macbeth that earned her critical acclaim and in turn, led to her being named a Screen International Star of Tomorrow and a BAFTA Breakthrough Brit last year.

Pugh made her film debut in The Falling, which helped garner her widespread attention and for which she received a nomination for Best Newcomer at the BFI London Film Festival Awards.

She has recently finished shooting Outlaw King with Chris Pine and Aaron Taylor-Johnson for release on Netflix and will soon begin filming on The Little Drummer Girl for the BBC.

She said she felt "truly honoured" to be nominated, adding: "The journey to get to this rewarding moment has been exhilarating, and so to feel recognition for doing something I love and the hard work many have put in feels very touching. It's a very proud moment indeed."

The rising star award, now in its 13th year, is the only BAFTA voted for by the British public.

Other nominees are Timothée Chalamet (Call Me By Your Name, Lady Bird), Daniel Kaluuya (Get Out, Black Panther), Josh O'Connor (The Riot Club, Florence Foster Jenkins) and Tessa Thompson (Selma, Westworld).

This year's nominees were selected by a panel of jurors including film broadcaster Edith Bowman, actress Georgina Campbell and casting director Lucy Bevan.

The winner will be announced on February 18 at the EE British Academy Film Awards ceremony at the Royal Albert Hall.

Caroline Lucas MP met Cheney School students to discuss green issues

School's green festival success

GREEN Party co-leader Caroline Lucas held an afternoon of inspirational sessions on a range of environmental issues to launch Cheney School's Green Festival.

The politician had lunch with the newly-formed Year 12 Environmental Student Team at the school in Headington before opening the event to pupils, staff and community visitors.

Audience members asked tricky questions on a variety of sustainability issues as the Brighton Pavilion MP spoke on the importance of lowering the legal voting age to 16.

Festival organisers from Rumble Museum thanked all those who took part and said: "The audience had a wide range of questions, from drug policy to nuclear energy and more – Caroline answered each one thoughtfully and with great clarity."

Oxfam, Oxford University and the Low Carbon Hub delivered workshops to raise awareness of environmental and conservation causes, such as climate change, single use plastics and solar energy.

Recycling contract

CHERWELL District Council and South Northamptonshire Council have signed a joint two-year contract with a company to separate materials and then recycle them.

Cherwell say the deal with Leicester-based Casepak materials recycling facility will mean its recycling team will only travel a third of the distance it did and emissions will be reduced.

Healthier dog food

AN Oxford chemist has launched a "cold-pressed" dog food that could help owners understand the fat, fibre and calories man's best friend consumes with each meal.

Tribal TLC has a traffic light system on the pack similar to that used on grocery products.

Fatima Maktari, based in Chinnor, said the ingredients are "cold pressed" at 95°C, the lowest heat possible, rather than baked to "keep the goodness locked in".

Say I do at mansion

A Grade II listed mansion in west Oxfordshire has added an intimate wedding ceremony space to its venue.

Stately home Eynsham Hall in Witney opened up the Duberley Room to bookings in January, with space for up to 40 guests, floor to ceiling windows and a champagne terrace.

Quiz MP about rail services

WEST Oxfordshire residents will get their chance to share thoughts on rail services in the area at a meeting hosted by Witney's MP.

Robert Courts will chair the Ask the GWR event with representatives from Great Western Railway and Network Rail fielding questions from the public.

A government spokesperson said: "In light of the Government's recent decision to extend the GWR franchise and the resulting consultation that is currently under way, Robert knows that it is more important than ever that residents have a say on what they want to see from GWR going forward.

"That is why Robert wants to know what you think, and wants you to be able to speak to GWR directly."

The event is described as an "open and relaxed conversation" where attendees will be able to raise concerns and questions about the railways serving the area.

Passenger numbers have reportedly trebled in recent years at nearby Hanborough station with plans to build a new ticket office, waiting room, toilet and small shop on the site.

To register your interest for the event email annabel.pickup@parliament.uk including your full name and constituency address.

The event will run from 6.30pm to 8.30pm at Charlbury Memorial Hall today.

More temps are filling vacancies in companies

OXFORD businesses are turning to short-term staff to plug the skills gap thanks to record-high employment in the county and the Brexit-effect.

Research by an Oxford-based recruitment agency shows a 20 per cent increase in the provision of temporary workers to employers in the period April to December from 2016 to 2017.

Allen Associates said finance, human resources, marketing and office administration roles have seen the sharpest rise in demand for temps over permanent staff.

Managing director Kate Allen said: "Record high employment means there are fewer candidates looking for permanent roles, which presents a serious challenge for employers with vacancies to be filled.

"This is particularly acute in areas such as Oxford, which has one of the lowest unemployment rates in the country.

She added: "Then there is the Brexit effect. Uncertainty over Britain's withdrawal from the European Union in 2019 is seeing some organisations hold back on any long-term recruitment plans.

"Whilst permanent recruitment is still strong, employers are utilising the region's temporary workforce, which is extremely buoyant right now."

Water power working – slowly

By George Welch

A £3.2million hydroelectric power plant completed last August is finally generating electricity – but very slowly.

Sandford Hydro's three 22-tonne Archimedes screws started turning at the end of last year following an unusually dry autumn and were going for a total of eight days over Christmas.

However, the community-owned plant, which should produce 1,600 MWh of renewable electricity per year to power 450 homes, is still not turning nearly as much as the developers would like.

When the river levels in the Thames eventually rose high enough to push the huge metal screws around, the team had to temporarily pull the plug on its operation on December 27 – because it was flowing too high.

Low Carbon Hub is ready to go again but, according to the developer's operations director in a January update, this is problematic as the team requires 'express permission from the Environment Agency on a daily basis in order to operate'.

Adriano Figueiredo said this is because a telemetry link requested by the EA has not been implemented on their side.

The power plant is operational when there is a lock keeper on site at Sandford Lock but the link would give the EA river level data to help decide when it is safe for the plant to operate.

Mr Figueiredo added: "The outcome we are seeking is to get the hydro operating as much as possible and do so by working closely with the [EA] waterways team, who have been very helpful.

"Despite the frustration of not having the hydro fully operational, we believe that co-operation with the EA will benefit us all in the long term – we will be working with them for at least the next 40 years after all."

Mr Figueiredo also reassured the scheme's community investors that delays shouldn't have a negative impact on their financial returns (a dividend of a few per cent on their initial investment each year).

The plant is co-owned by more than 250 community investors, who all invested £250 per share to raise around £1.2m in total. Another £2m came from a Charity Bank loan.

FENCING FEATURE ADVERTISEMENT

"I honestly believe that Colourfence is the best general purpose fencing product on the market today!"

Get ready for Winter

Now's the perfect time to replace your garden fence once and for all. Anna Ryder Richardson - Designer and Television Presenter - takes a closer look at Colourfence, the revolutionary low-maintenance system.

It's been ten years since I regularly graced TV screens helping transform people's living spaces with MDF and stripped floorboards. Recently it's been more "celebrity muck out" than "celebrity make-over" as I took up the challenge of owning my own Wildlife Zoo in Tenby. In this time I've learnt quiet a lot about fences and having researched the various options for my own benefit I thought I would share my knowledge with a wider audience.

The latest design processes mean there is now a tremendous array of fencing products for you to choose from, constructed from a variety of materials. Each has its own attributes, and ultimately it can often come down to a matter of personal preference. For me, there was one unique system that stood out as providing the best balance between price and functionality which eradicates fencing problems for good. Or for at least 25 years. Colourfence. For quality, value, longevity, aesthetic design, this fencing system ticks all the boxes. Fencing made for the 21st century that will transform the look of your garden which is supplied and fitted by a company whose customer service is as good as the product.

In my view, Colourfence is the 'Rolls Royce' of fencing – just without the exclusive price tag. What's more, it's guaranteed to stay in place in up to 130mph winds and is virtually maintenance free.

To find out how the experts from Colourfence might help you, I suggest you call 01865 582 171 and speak to their team.

Colourfence: The ultimate garden fence?

For many Colourfence is perhaps the ultimate choice. For the last 15 years it's been widely used across the UK and has steadily gained a reputation for its quality. By using the highest specification Colorbond steel in the fence structure itself, complemented by the highest level of customer service from accredited Franchisees, Colourfence is now regarded by many as the premier fencing solution in the market. Immune to the rot and resistant to the weather that so quickly effects wooden fences, Colourfence has none of the drawbacks of wood - plenty of additional benefits and what's more it's better value!

Gardeners' Questions

Q Wooden fence panels just don't seem to last - is there a storm resistant alternative?

A The Colourfence system has been tested under cyclonic conditions to withstand storms with wind gusts up to 130mph. Unlike your wooden fence - once professionally installed - Colourfence really will stay up!

Q No matter what I treat my wooden fence with - nothing seems to prevent it rotting or looking shabby for very long.

A Treating your fence is a thankless and expensive task. It's also a losing battle. Wood simply want's to rot. Colourfence offers a low-maintenance alternative where by an occasional wash down will keep it looking great for up to 25 years! GUARANTEED!†

Head into Winter - with COLOURFENCE

The only garden fence you will ever need!

Every gardener knows that it pays to plan ahead. If you are one of the thousands of people who watched helpless, as winter winds battered their garden, it will not be a surprise that garden fences are almost always the first casualty. Whether you have previously patched, painted or simply prayed to keep your fence going, there's no escaping the fact that timber fences will always fall victim to the weather. With Colourfence you can put your garden straight once and for all. Colourfence is scientfically tested and cyclonically rated to ensure when professionally installed, it can withstand wind gusts of up to 130mph. Once it's up – it stays up and is guaranteed to look good year after year. Safe, extra secure and hassle free – you will NEVER need to paint it, treat it or patch it. An occasional hose down will be all you need do to keep it in top condition for years to come. In fact the system is so durable that Colourfence will guarantee† their fencing to last at least 25 years. Available in a range of colours to suit any garden, with or without decorative trellis, the highly skilled installation team make short work of their dramatic transformations. Your sad old fence will be e_ ciently cleared and replaced, leaving you to get back to enjoying your rejuvenated garden. Pricing is just as straightforward and equally attractive. Starting costs are in line with inferior timber systems but with no annual treatments required, Colourfence saves you time and money each and every year. Their aim is your peace of mind. With a 25 year guarantee† Colourfence speaks for itself and promises a lifetime of hassle-free enjoyment.

For more information and to arrange a FREE no obligation site visit simply call one of their helpful team on 01865 582 171.

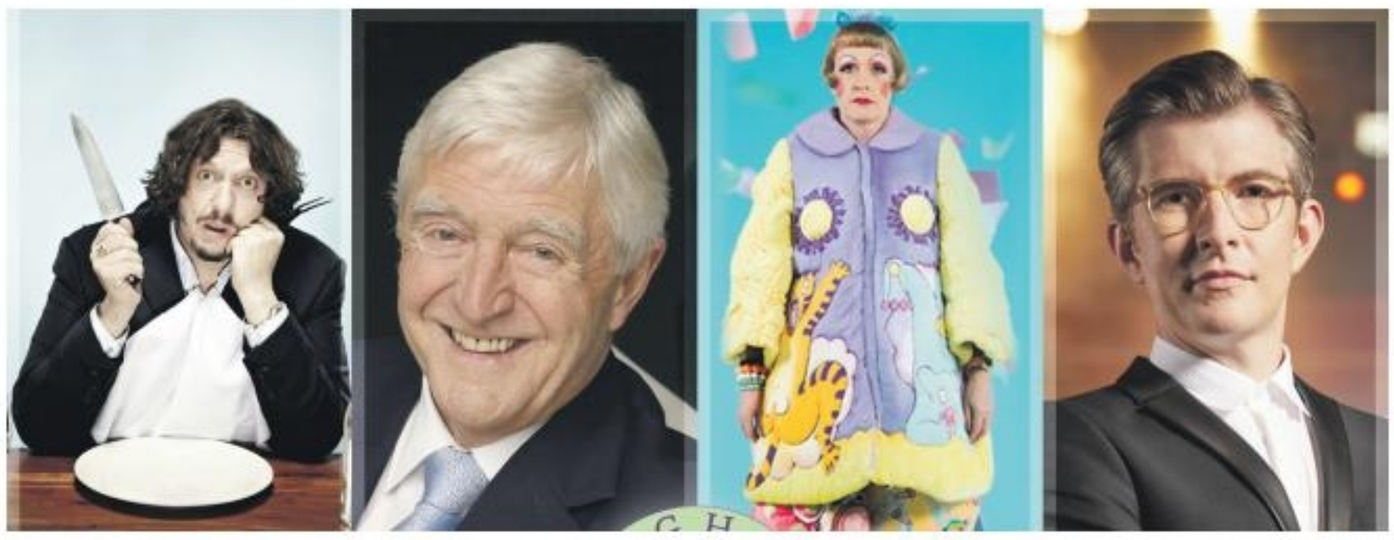
Variety night for Afghanistan



Jay Rayner, Michael Parkinson, Grayson Perry and Gareth Malone will be entertaining for a good cause

By Samantha McGregor

JOIN big names including Grayson Perry, Sir Michael Parkinson, Gareth Malone and Jay Rayner to help raise the roof for children in Afghanistan.

They will take part in a special variety night at Oxford's New Theatre in a bid to raise enough money in one night to build a school in the war-ravaged country.

Promising to be an evening of entertainment and fundraising, the event takes place on Wednesday, February 28.

It will feature a discussion on art, identity and Afghan rugs with Grayson Perry; an interview with Sir Michael Parkinson on his career and love of cricket, while Jay Rayner will give his insights on dining nightmares. Gareth Malone will host the evening and also give a couple of performances himself.

Cash raised on the night will be donated to Afghan Connection, AC, which was set up by Dr Sarah Fane in 2002, following her time in Afghanistan as a doctor during the Soviet war and under the Taliban regime.

The charity aims to transform life opportunities for children in remote and underserved regions of Afghanistan through support for education projects.

Organisers hope to raise £121,500 to build six classrooms, toilet facilities and a security wall to help educate 192 children in Worsaj, a remote district in Takhar Province, North Afghanistan.

AC has built 46 schools for 75,000 children and renovated more than 70 other schools serving some 110,000 children.

Through its support, 1,000 teachers have received training and 2,700 children attend community-based education classes in areas where there are no schools.

For more information on AC's appeal go to justgiving.com/campaigns/charity/afghanconnection/WereofSchool

A very try- ing team

JOHN Godber's award-winning rugby comedy Up 'n' Under, comes to the Oxford Playhouse later this month.

Brought in partnership with England Deaf Rugby Union, this production has been given Fingersmiths' spin.

Featuring a cast of deaf and hearing actors using British Sign Language and spoken English, this unique production promises an exciting visual and physical theatre to delight all audiences.

The Wheatsheaf Arms rugby team, the laughing stock of Castleford's Amateur Rugby League Seven-a-Side tournament, have never won a game, don't have seven players and spend more time in the pub than on the pitch.

With just five weeks to go, our hero coach Arthur has to convince them they can beat the mighty Cobbler's Arms, but first he has to work out how to communicate with them.

Headed by Tony Stoyles, Chairman of England Deaf Rugby Union and World Deaf Rugby, this first-time collaboration promotes the awareness of, and aims to develop deaf participation in, sport and arts across the country.

Tickets for Up 'n 'Under at Oxford Playhouse start at £10 and are available from the Ticket Office on 01865 305305 or view oxfordplayhouse.com

Modern twist on a classic play for today's audience

By Samantha McGregor

A STUDENT company is gearing up to bring a classic play with a modern twist to the Oxford Playhouse.

University of Oxford student company Peripeteia Productions brings Henrik Ibsen's Hedda to the stage from Wednesday, February 21 until Saturday, February 24.

In this contemporary version of Ibsen's original, adapted by Critics' Circle Award-winner Lucy Kirkwood, Hedda Gabler is brought into a modern world full of crisis, Oxford academics and destabilising gender roles.

Hedda faces an empty marriage, an unfulfilling existence and a pregnancy she doesn't want.

Driven by an unthinking desire for power, Hedda attempts to manipulate those around her to devastating effect.

First performed in 1891, Ibsen's masterpiece shocked society for its fierce and unapologetic female lead.

Now, more than 125 years later, it continues to challenge, questioning how far society has come in creating a space for women.

It is performed as part of the Playhouse's A Vote of Her Own Season, celebrating 100 years of female suffrage.

With the famous suffragette Elizabeth Robins having played the lead role in the UK's first production of Hedda, the centenary of women's right to vote is the perfect time to both celebrate and scrutinise this play.

Peripeteia Productions promise a "compelling, challenging and powerful production".

With a talented young cast, a striking set made of light and a newly composed soundscape, this production will appeal to Ibsen lovers and modern drama fans alike.

Kirkwood, playwright and writer in residence at Clean Break theatre company, will be in conversation with Oxford academic and Ibsen specialist Kristen Shephard-Barr at the Playhouse, at 5pm on Friday, February 23. Tickets for this event are free with a ticket to Hedda.

Tickets start at £10 and are available by calling 01865 305305 or go to oxfordplayhouse.com

Plenty to laugh at in Glee Club line-up

OXFORD's Glee Club has revealed its line-up for the coming months with some top names heading to the city.

Those already signed up include Britain's Got Talent finalist Daliso Chaponda, comedian and radio presenter John Robins, BBC Radio 4's Simon Evans, and the off-the-wall Rob Auton.

UK-based Malawian comedian Daliso, will perform on February 23, after wowing television audiences in the 11th series of ITV's Britain's Got Talent last year and was sent straight to the final after Amanda Holden pressed the golden buzzer.

While John Robins, who won the Edinburgh Comedy Award 2017 with The Darkness Of Robins, appears at the club on February 11 to reflect on love, loss and lamenting the fact he can't break up with himself.

On March 2, after looking back at the 1980s for his previous show, Patrick Monahan moves onto the next decade with Rewind Selector 90s, recalling the challenges he faced as an Irish/ Iranian immigrant.

And March 11, catch Simon Evans, currently a writer on Lee Mack's joke-heavy sitcom Not Going Out, Evans' and BBC Radio 4's Goes To Market.

Alongside the touring shows, the Cowley Road comedy club continues to host four-act line-ups every Saturday night.

Those set to grace the stage over the coming weeks include Angela Barnes on February 17 and Jayde Adams on March 3.

Our full services include:

- Transport for wheelchair/mobility scooter users within and around Oxfordshire
- Taxi for groups
- Airport transfers
- Discounted rates for account holders: care-homes, hospitals, schools, universities, etc.
- Escort/Assistance service: we have a small team of dedicated assistants who are all DBS checked. We can accompany patients to and from appointments (hospital, dentist's, etc.) or on days out.

Freak out at Blenheim Palace

By Samantha McGregor

NILE Rodgers & Chic will open the four-day music spectacular at Blenheim Palace this summer.

They are the latest act to be unveiled and will headline Nocturne on Thursday, June 14.

For this concert Chic will be joined on the bill by two very special acts, which are still under-wraps.

The concert series returns to the Oxfordshire palace from June 14 to 17 and it has already been revealed that superstar singer/songwriter Gary Barlow will close the event on Sunday.

Gary's show, to include tunes from his back catalogue and a selection of Take That's greatest hits, is already sold-out.

Chic have enjoyed widespread mainstream success since their inception in the late 1970s thanks to a string of hits including Le Freak, Good Times and Everybody Dance'

Founder and frontman Rodgers has written for some of the biggest names in the music industry and produced and played on some of the best-selling albums of all time.

The Chic live show features all of the band's hits as well as songs from Rodgers' collaborations with the likes of Madonna, David Bowie, Daft Punk and Diana Ross.

Rodgers said: "We are really excited to be bringing some Chic 'magic' to the Nocturne concert series at Blenheim Palace this summer.

"Don't forget your dancing shoes and be prepared to 'Ahh...Freak Out'! See you there!"

Chic are is the second act to be announced for this summer's event and the remaining headliners will be announced in the coming weeks.

Tickets for Chic featuring Nile Rodgers start at £45 and went on sale last Friday.

Tickets, along with a limited number of VIP packages, which provide an exclusive opportunity to dine in the State Rooms of Blenheim Palace, are also available.

Place the four signs (add, subtract, multiply, divide) one in each circle so that the total of each across and down line is the same.

Perform the first calculation in each line first and ignore the mathematical law which says you should always perform division and multiplication before addition and subtraction.

Hearing Check & Trial Day

Book now to try this amazing hearing aid

Witney February 22nd 9.30 to 4.30

Banbury February 23rd 9.30 to 4.30

At Keith Donaghy Hearing care

hcpc registered www.hcpc-uk.org

On these days you can visit us for free help and advice and have :-

- A full hearing examination to check your hearing ability.
- Trial the latest hearing aids including the new rechargeable systems.
- Meet George Frost the hearing aid expert from Widex.
- Have a consultation regarding any hearing problems that you have including tinnitus advice.

Why should I have my hearing tested?

Recent studies have shown that there is a connection with hearing loss and dementia. If you have a hearing loss it is advisable to wear hearing aids as soon as possible to prevent isolation in social situations and to aid your hearing sense to work at its optimum, enabling you to continue enjoying an interactive and sociable life. Book an appointment to avoid disappointment.

You are welcome to call in during the day just to have a look, but please book an appointment with our hearing aid consultant if you require a full hearing screening to avoid being disappointed. Just telephone the number below or send us an email.

Introducing the new WIDEX BEYOND Z

STAY IN CHARGE OF YOUR STREAMING

If the users own an iPhone or iPad, they can stream high-quality sound directly to their WIDEX BEYOND Z™ hearing aids. This means that they can listen to what they want, where they want – without compromise.

HEAR ALL THE MUSIC

Access tunes on the go in hi-fi quality by streaming music via WIDEX BEYOND Z™. The 2.4 GHz connection means that users get the best sound quality available in a hearing aid, in both ears. If they have an Android phone, they can stream music to their hearing aids via one of our many DEX accessories.

New WIDEX BEYOND Z rechargeable hearing aids

LAST ALL DAY CHARGE AT NIGHT

Because WIDEX BEYOND Z™ has the lowest power consumption of any rechargeable hearing aid, users can experience a full day of the most advanced hearing and superior streaming sound quality, without ever worrying about running out of power.

The advanced ZPower silver-zinc cell holds more power than any other battery of its size and only takes 3-4 hours on average to recharge.

TINY HEARING AID

BIG SOUND WINDOW

With any hearing aid, capturing an unchanged and comprehensive sound picture is paramount. Whatever isn't captured by the hearing aid can't be heard by the user. And once sound is compressed, whatever is lost in the compression process can never be regained. That's why WIDEX CUSTOM™ has the largest sound window of any hearing aid in the market (together with WIDEX UNIQUE™ and WIDEX BEYOND™). With a lower limit of 5 dB SPL and an upper limit of 113 dB SPL the WIDEX CUSTOM has a dynamic range of 108 dB.

In addition, the sound window of CUSTOM is linear throughout the entire input range. This eliminates distortion, which means fewer artifacts in noisy environments and allows access to more soft level sounds.

Other benefits

- 4 dedicated A/D converters – deliver full feature functionality with all input types
- 33.1 KHz Sampling – the great amount of sound identification with the broad bandwidth results in the opportunity for the most accurate reproduction of sound.

Wedding Feature

Peter York - Professional Master of Ceremonies

Toastmaster & Civil Celebrant

Weddings are occasions of great joy—and enormous pressure. Few couples have the opportunity to learn from experience. There is only one chance to get it right.

A Toastmaster can help relieve the pressure lending an air of quiet professionalism and making sure everything goes exactly as planned. Tact and a gi for seeing poten!al problems before they arise are just two of the reasons that a Toastmaster's skill can prove invaluable at any Wedding large or small.

On your wedding day, you do not want to be answering ques!ons about !mings or sea!ng arrangements. Peter York will be on hand to deal with all the ques!ons and will act as a point of contact between you and your venue. There is nothing more stressful than having to obtain the a(en!on of guests or direc!ng people in the right direc!on. Toastmasters are fully prac!ced at making announcements when calling guests to the Wedding Breakfast, introducing speeches, cu*ng of the cake and first dance. Toastmasters are always happy to help in advising the content and dura!on of speeches Your Toastmaster will also serve as the link when talking to Entertainers, Photographers etc.

A Professional Toastmaster will ensure both the correct procedure and good communica!ons, transforming any event into a memorable occasion

Advertorial

Enjoy 'Star Car' family fun this half term at the British Motor Museum!

The British Motor Museum is inviting visitors to take part in two weeks of 'Star Car' interactive fun from 10 - 25 February 2018. There will be the opportunity to meet Parker or Lady Penelope on a family tour and discover the stories behind the Museum's famous cars from TV & film, plus get creative with 'Star Car' crafts and complete the 'Star Car Trail'.

Star Car Crafts offer a range of creative activities and take place daily. Children can make a 'Star Car,' to take home - choose from templates of FAB1, Tomb Raider or Shaun the Sheep's Land Rover. Lovers of Lego® can make a 'Star Car' out of Lego which will be captured on camera and added to the 'Star Car Wall of Fame'. Those with artistic flair can draw a car for their favourite 'star' to be displayed, or to take home. Large Lego Bricks are also available every day for under 5's to enjoy along with a self-guided Star Car Trail that will enable visitors of all ages to explore the 'Star Cars' as a family.

Parker & Penelope Tours will take place every day at 11.45am and 1.30pm, when costumed guides Parker or Lady Penelope will take visitors on a 'Star Car' family tour of the Museum.

Emma Rawlinson, Life Long Learning Officer at the British Motor Museum stated "We have an exciting two weeks of interactive family friendly activities planned with plenty to keep everyone entertained, whatever the weather!"

All half term family activities are included in the Museum entry. Adults £14, Children £9 (5-16 years) under 5's free, Concessions £12 & Family £39 (2 adults & up to 3 children). Buy 1 day and get 12 months free if you Gift Aid your entrance.

To find out more information please visit the website at www.britishmotormuseum.co.uk/events/family-activities or call 01926 641188.

Why is Oxford the UK's least affordable City?

Bill Cooper, co-author of The Oxford Property Blog and managing director of Martin and Co, Oxford

On average a UK City home costs 7 times annual average income. Not since 2007 has property been less affordable when the average was 7.5 times annual average income.

Contrary to popular belief London is not the least affordable City when property price is compared to average income, that dubious accolade goes to Oxford, out on its own at 11.5 times average earnings. Next comes our other world-famous City of learning Cambridge at 10.5 times earnings.

Each of London, Oxford and Cambridge have average house prices above £400,000 with Oxford average price being £422,055 over the last 12 months.

Whilst London property has stagnated during 2017, the Capital has also experienced the strongest earnings growth, rising out of the credit crunch malaise faster and stronger than Cities such as Oxford, Cambridge and Bath. Cities popular with commuters to London such as Brighton and Winchester have also experienced property price inflation with people benefitting from London earnings demanding property and widening the gap for people who live and work locally.

Despite fewer completed sales, demand for Oxford homes has remained strong. In north Oxford, Kidlington property saw increases as high as 25% during 2015 and 2016 due to the new Oxford Parkway station making the village a commuting hotspot, and whilst price growth stagnated in 2017, Kidlington remains a buoyant local market.

So why is Oxford so expensive? First and foremost, Oxford offers a superb built environment combining historic and modern architecture and vibrant sports and leisure attractions. It is a City that attracts 30,000 students annually many of whom live in private rented properties, and is a world recognised seat of learning and centre for the knowledge industries. It is strategically located in the Centre of England offering easy access North, South, East and West, and is surrounded by beautiful Cotswold countryside. Who wouldn't want to live in Oxford?

But, the City and County Councils have failed to enable and encourage sufficient new build homes, resulting in a supply constrained property market. In 2017, less than 1% of the homes sold in Oxford were new build. That under-supply of new affordable homes suitable for first-time buyers and/or to down-sizing retired residents, is causing there to be a chronic under-supply of 2 and 3 bedroom homes. Whilst Government policy aimed at helping first time buyers is positive, in Oxford first time buyers are not limited by stamp duty, but rather the size of deposit required by mortgage lenders.

For people who own an Oxford home the strength in values is an important part of their wealth planning, for the city as a whole it is the biggest strategic risk that the City faces. At present it is hard to see how local or national public policy will address this crisis.

	City	Price to earnings multiple
Least affordable places	Oxford	11.5
	Cambridge	10.5
	London	10.2
	Brighton & Hove	10.2
	Bath	10.1
	Winchester	10.0
	Exeter	9.3
	Truro	9.3
	Canterbury	8.9
	Southampton	8.9
Most affordable places	Dundee	5.4
	Swansea	5.4
	Sunderland	5.1
	Lisburn	5.1

Suzuki Ignis 1.2 SHVS SZ5

Ignis lights up the small supermini market

By Tony Yates

THE Supermini market has been growing at an astonishing rate for the last few years – and as we move into 2018, it's getting even hotter – mainly thanks to everybody talking about the demise of diesel engines and why we should all buy smaller cars if we want to save the planet.

So, what's the reason for this sudden hype? Well, buyers are now looking for the smaller cars because we are told they are cheaper to run, and in many cases cheaper to buy. And that's the nuts and bolts of it basically. But, what I will say is nothing in life is ever simple.

Actually, because we are talking about value for money motoring, I want to introduce you to the rather good-looking Suzuki Ignis - and why after only a few days of driving it, I'm totally convinced that maybe it's something pretty special.

Power & efficiency

The Ignis is powered by a four-cylinder Dualjet petrol engine that produces 90ps at 6000rpm and 120Nm at 4400rpm. 0 to 62 mph is dealt with in 11.5 seconds – moving onto a top speed of around103 mph.

The official fuel economy figures from Suzuki are; 60.1 mpg (combined) with a CO2 rating of 106 g/km - although the best I could get was around 50mpg, but then I was not really trying to get near what Suzuki had said was possible.

On the road

I like the way the little Ignis handles – but I do feel the suspension is a little bouncy - saying that, when the road gets twisty – it is more than capable of holding its own thanks to a good balance of chassis and suspension. When you think about it, it actually performs rather well and I was really impressed by this. Of course, this means it gives you a lot of confidence into the corners, which in turn makes it quite the drive. Also, when the road gets twisty – you have that wonderful Suzuki ALLGRIP 4-wheel drive system keeping you formally in check. Yes, you heard that correctly, a 4-wheel drive system that does a very nice job indeed of keeping you glued to the tarmac with no muddy fields involved whatsoever.

Design & technology

My test car was fitted with decent seating and clever interior accents, which lifts even the most boring of interiors – not that the inside is boring, but you do sense that the Ignis was set out to be more practical than luxurious. Saying that it's quite plush and all the dials and controls are easy to use. But, and its a small one, some of the plastics on the inside could have been better quality.

Space – well let's just say for a small car it has bags of it - along with a decent driving position and plenty of room in the back for most adults to sit in reasonable comfort. The boot is also pretty good, with max luggage capacity coming in around 1,086 litres.

Some of the standard features fitted to my test vehicle included; LED daytime running lights, LED projector head-lamps, ALLGRIP 4-wheel drive system, DAB digital radio with 4 speakers, USB, Bluetooth and iPod, driver and passenger front, side and curtain airbags, ABS with EBD, Electronic Stability Program, Hill Hold Control and Hill Descent, automatic headlights, auto-matic air conditioning, 16" alloy wheels, cruise control with speed limiter and rear parking camera.

To sum up

Suzuki has done a fantastic job here - and I expect the Ignis to do well as a feature-packed supermini that doesn't cost the earth.

Smith encouraged by testing

By George Welch

MotoGP

BRADLEY Smith says he is 'pleased' with the progress KTM Red Bull made over the three-day MotoGP test at Sepang with its new RC16.

The Forest Hill rider finished in 19th place overall in the Malaysian testing at the end of last month.

Smith was raring to get on the track for the first time in 2018 but a serious crash from team-mate Pol Espargaro on day two overshadowed the weekend.

However, the Austrian outfit said it took 'plenty of positives' from the weekend as Smith and other team-mate Mika Kallio were able to test themselves with an extensive testing programme.

Smith clocked his weekend's best time on day two with a time of 2:00.520 as he trailed team-mates Espargaro (2:00.262) and Kallio (2:00.464).

KTM took a new aerodynamic fairing to Sepang, though Smith only had limited track time with it.

The 27-year-old said: "Obviously it's a busy test schedule here in Sepang and after Pol's crash it has meant that myself and Mika have had to work through a lot.

"It's been a chance for us to evaluate a lot of different things and to give us a direction on what to do.

"On day three the grip was a little less and that means that it's good conditions for us to test in.

"Usually when the track gets grippy and hot we struggle a little bit so it's been good to have these conditions."

He added: "I'm generally quite pleased with what we've tested because I think that we've got a good base to work with at the Thailand tests in a few days time."

Espargaro said he felt 'lucky' to avoid serious injury when he crashed into a wall at over 250 km/h.

The next testing session will be in Thailand on February 16.

There will a final testing session in Qatar on March 1 before the 2018 season gets off to a racing start at the Losail International Circuit in the same country on March 18.

Neil pockets a win on return

Snooker

DIDCOT cueman Neil Craycraft earned his big break on the Cuestars snooker circuit with a winning return to the sport after a seven year absence.

The South of England Senior (40+) Tour wrapped up the fifth leg with a final showdown between the Oxfordshire champion and rankings leader Matt Ford.

Craycraft won the final 2-0 on home tables at the Jesters Snooker Club in Swindon to avenge a 2-0 defeat to Bracknell-based Ford in the group stages.

Victory pocketed the top potter £100 and 25 points on the leaderboard.

The Didcot snooker ace progressed to the final at the expense of Woking tennis coach John Motton, whom Craycraft dispatched 2-1 in the last-four match.

Southampton's Neil Carroll made his first semi-final appearance of the season in the other tie, losing 2-0 to Ford.

Ford remains in first place in Group C – known as the "group of death" – with Craycraft second.

However, Ford leads the group-stages overall with three tournaments to go.

Chandlers Ford Snooker Club in Eastleigh will host the sixth leg of eight when the championship gets back under way on Sunday February 18.

Jaguar turning up the heat after good finish in Chile

Formula E

JAGUAR celebrated a double point-scoring weekend for the first time this season after both drivers finished in the top 10 at a dramatic Santiago E-Prix.

With hard-fought, wheel-to-wheel action from the front of the race, Mitch Evans made swift progress up the grid.

The New Zealander elbowed his way through the pack from P20 to cross the line at the inaugural Santiago E-Prix in seventh place.

Team-mate Nelson Piquet Jr, starting fifth on the grid, made a lightning start and battled for the lead throughout but had to settle for a sixth-placed finish.

The double points finish continued the Grove-based outfit's strong start to their second season in Formula E.

Evans said he was "very happy" to claim six points after fighting back from a disappointing qualifying.

"The important thing is that the Jaguar has the pace, as a team we are still learning but getting better all the time," added Piquet Jr, who scooped eight points in Chile.

Jaguar are fourth in the team standings with 54 points – the highest tally the team have ever achieved. Piquet Jr is fifth and Evans is seventh in the drivers' championship.

Grove-based driver Alex Lynn said he was happy with his team's – DS Virgin Racing – performance despite having to retire after losing a battle with his gearbox.

Round five of the all-electric series hits the streets of Mexico City on March 3.

Early promise hit by a nightmare nine holes

Golf

A DISASTROUS back nine ended Eddie Pepperell's bid to make the final round of the Maybank Championship in Malaysia.

The Abingdon golfer made the cut after a positive start and was only five shots off the lead heading into round three.

But the Frilford Heath member, who carded encouraging rounds of three-under par on days one and two for six-under par at the halfway stage, suffered a nightmare back nine in round three.

The collapse meant Pepperell was one of eight players to fail to make the final round in a rare 'extended' cut.

Round three began in steady fashion for the 27-year-old, who motored through the front-nine on level par after two birdies and bogeys cancelled each other out.

The final nine holes proved more problematic, however.

He hit four bogeys, a double bogey and a triple bogey to record a dismal eight-over par for the day, dropping him to two-over par and out of the competition.

The Maybank Championship was won by India's Shubhankar Sharma, on 21-under, two shots clear of Jorge Campillo.

Pepperell still earned €3,581 (around £3,183) in prize money for his 80th placed finish.

He is not playing in the ISPS Hana World Super 6 competition in Perth, Australia, which tees off today.

Legend passes some top tips

Basketball

YOUNG players at South Oxfordshire Heat Basketball Club received a masterclass from a British Olympian and decorated professional on Saturday.

Towering six foot eight basketball legend Drew Sullivan took control of the regular Saturday practice at Didcot Girls' School to put the children though their paces in an intensive session.

As well as the tough workout, the youth basketballers were taught about the importance of working as a team, hard work and discipline to achieve goals on and off the court.

Trustees from SOHBC said they were "happy to be able to provide these unique opportunities for young basketball players in Oxfordshire".

"It is important that the children interact with someone like Drew who has reached the highest level of UK basketball but is at the same time a great role model for respect and fair play."

The Olympian played College Basketball in the US for Villanova before successful stints in some of Europe's most competitive leagues, including the UK, Holland, Spain and Russia.

More than 100 children are registered as players at development side SOHBC competing in youth leagues.

The Club recently launched an U14 girls team and U14 girls league and welcomes new players at training sessions.

City face a fight for survival

By Owen Hughes

Oxford City

OXFORD City are without a win in five in the Vanarama National League South after slipping to a 2-1 defeat against fellow strugglers Concord Rangers on Saturday.

Hoops' hopes of salvaging a point from the away trip were dashed when the Beach Boys scored the match winner with just 10 minutes left.

An experimental formation featured Joe Oastler, Cristian Navarro and Conor Stevens lined up in a back three in front of 'keeper Craig King, leaving Eddie Jones and Freddie Grant to protect the flanks.

A midfield three of Mamadou Fofana, Godfrey Poku and Zac McEachran were deployed in the centre of the pitch while Matt Paterson cut a lonely figure up front with Rob Sinclair in behind.

Femi Akinwande opened the scoring with the first real chance of the half as the new-look Hoops struggled to get a foothold.

Running repairs to a set of wonky goalposts provided a brief stoppage in the half before King was forced into a save on 37 minutes from a Concord free kick from the edge of the area.

McEachran's wild shot five minutes later was soon forgotten when the young midfielder unleashed an effort that rattled the outside of Beach Boys' post.

It was the City goalpost's turn to feel the good vibrations in the second half as Akinwande came close to doubling his tally, crashing his effort against the woodwork.

McEachran pulled the strings for the Hoops as Grant met his cross at the back post to sweep home for the leveller on 57 minutes.

But with less than 10 minutes remaining, Stephen Cawley popped up with an emphatic finish to deny City a share of the spoils.

Manager Mark Jones said: "We are in a relegation battle now, there's no doubt about it.

"We've got to stick together and fight these next 13 games.

"I'm not a quitter, I'll keep going and try and prepare the players as best we can and hope the players can go on the pitch and do the job."

Double delight for Didcot

Evo Stik round-up

A GEORGE Jeacock double helped Didcot Town increase the pressure at the top of the table in a mightily impressive 3-1 win at home to Salisbury on Tuesday.

The former Oxford United youngster converted from the spot within 10 minutes and doubled the lead on 28 minutes.

Stuart Green got the Whites back into it four minutes later with his 15th league goal of the season but they missed the chance to go in level at the break when Tom Whelan had a spot kick saved. It was a third penalty miss in four games for the Wiltshire side.

No team has more wins on the road than Salisbury, but the Railwaymen secured the points on the hour mark when Felipe Barcelos broke away to score.

Diddy also battled to a 0-0 draw at home to fellow high-flyers Swindon Supermarine on Saturday, despite Adam Learoyd seeing red for a lunge just after half time.

Also in Evo-Stik South West, Kidlington are within seven points of the play-offs with games in hand after beating Cinderford Town 4-1 on Saturday.

Mark Janes scored twice while Lance Williams and Duran Martin were also on target at Yarnton Road to stretch the Greens' unbeaten run to four games.

North Leigh suffered more misery after they conceded a last-gasp goal to lose 2-1 at fellow strugglers Shortwood United. It was the Millers' eighth defeat in nine matches.

Butler serves two goals to give Utd win

Hellenic round-up

ABINGDON United recovered from their away defeat last time out to put four goals past visitors Lydney Town on Saturday.

The Vale side fell behind to a Ross Gabriel goal in the first half, before Thomas Butler scored two in the final five minutes to edge in front at the break.

Callum Harvey (58 minutes) and Dejon Noel-Williams (65) all but ended the contest before Declan Morley-Lynne grabbed a consolation with a minute to spare.

The 4-2 win at Northcourt Road means Abingdon leapfrog Oxford City Nomads into 12th on 32 points.

A failure to get out of the traps quick enough was the Nomads' undoing when Ascot United raced ahead through a second minute goal at the Oxford City Stadium.

Jack Tutton pulled one back for the home side on 60 minutes but was soon cancelled out by James Richardson (75) and George Lock (85) to make sure of the 3-1 defeat.

Wantage Town's trip to bottom club Burnham at the weekend was postponed, but the promotion hopefuls won a vital away clash with Woodley United 3-2 to remain third in the table on 63 points.

Nomads will be Burnham's next visitors on Saturday while Abingdon welcome Longlevens to Northcourt Road.

Wantage's next scheduled fixture is at home to Fairford Town on Saturday February 17.

Four points in four days a good return for Puritans

Banbury United

BANBURY United were unlucky not to follow up Saturday's 5-0 hammering of Gosport Borough with another three points at home to Basingstoke on Tuesday.

Ricky Johnson bagged a second-half hat trick at home to Gosport on Saturday to add to Elliot Sandy's penalty on 45 minutes and a volley from Jack Self mid-way through the second half.

The Puritans started Tuesday's game against Basingstoke in similar form and were rewarded with a goal on eight minutes when Luke Carnell followed up a Tom Winters free-kick palmed straight into his path.

First half dominance failed to deliver more goals and the home side were made to pay when Ben Wright snatched a 1-1 draw for Basingstoke with five minutes remaining.

Manager Mike Ford said after the game: "When you have two games over a Saturday and a Tuesday, you always look for four points and we've got them.

"On Saturday we had players that played well and we were winning, but we didn't have enough of those tonight [Tuesday].

"My big moan is the fact we didn't control the game. It's not ideal but we'll take that point."

Banbury sit ninth in the Evo-Stik South Premier on 50 points and now travel to Slough Town on Saturday.

Golly Goss! Thame net victory over promotion chasers

Thame United

THAME United caused a major upset in the Evo-Stik South East to trip up Beaconsfield Town's promotion charge.

The mid-table Oxfordshire side came away from Holloways Park with all three points after a dogged display to dig out a 1-0 win.

It was a game that reserved all of its action for a tense second half after a largely uneventful opening 45 minutes.

Thame's breakthrough came courtesy of Lynton Goss who tucked away the rebound from his missed penalty on 65 minutes.

A trip on Goss in the box after a through ball from Tom Ashworth left the referee with no option but to point to the spot.

Goalkeeper Ravan Constable guessed the right way but could only parry the ball directly back towards Goss who slotted it into an open goal.

The away side finished the stronger as Beaconsfield were reduced to 10 men after Alexander Cathline was given his marching orders for an elbow to the jaw of Adam Morris.

An organised team performance saw out the game to move Thame to 10th in the division on 42 points.

They are nine points off the play-offs with games in hand on most teams.

Thame move on to prepare for the visit of third-bottom Hanwell Town on Saturday.

Rovers next as U's in no rush to name new boss

By George Welch

Derek Fazackerley is hoping for more of the same at home on Saturday and inset, managerial contender David Unsworth in his Everton days

OUFC

OXFORD United need to build on their heroics from the win over Charlton Athletic by replicating their performance against mid-table Bristol Rovers.

That is the message from caretaker manager Derek Fazackerley, who will lead out the U's at the Kassam for the first time on Saturday.

The 66-year-old, who joined the club at the same time as Michael Appleton in 2014, has tasked his side to find some consistency.

"I said to the players straight after the game that, as pleased as we are with the win, we have had many, many occasions, not just this season, where we have had fantastic results away and not been able to come home and put back-to-back results together," he said.

"That has to change and Saturday's performance is something we've got to build on. We have to make sure that in the games going forward we have that same focus, intensity, hunger and desire; all the things that we spoke about and which enabled us to achieve Saturday's result."

The Gas arrive in Grenoble Road on the back of a 2-1 defeat at home to surprise package Shrewsbury Town – but that loss was their first one in six games.

A bumper crowd is expected – Rovers sold out their allocation last week – with this fixture throwing up some entertaining contests in recent years.

Meanwhile, chairman Darryl Eales has insisted he is in no rush to appoint a permanent manager.

It has been 17 days since Pep Clotet was dismissed, and the club is taking its time to recruit.

The club has kept its cards close to its chest, although previous favourites Michael Appleton and Frank Lampard moved quickly to publicly rule themselves out of the running.

However, according to reports in the north west, Premier League side Everton have given the U's permission to speak to academy coach David Unsworth.

The 44-year-old oversaw the club's Under-23 outfit as they won the Premier League 2 title last season before serving as a stand-in at first-team level in October.

Before Sam Allardyce was unveiled as Ronald Koeman's replacement, Unsworth – known as Rhino – took charge of eight games in all competitions, winning just two of them.

Penalty drama knocks Ladies out of FA Cup

OUFCW

OXFORD United Ladies were on the wrong end of an FA Cup fourth round upset as they lost on penalties to Cardiff City Ladies on Sunday.

The U's were held to a 0-0 draw after extra time and the Welsh side, who play in the tier below in the WPL Southern Division, progressed with the 5-4 shootout victory.

United set the tempo from the off and dominated the early stages.

Kayleigh Hines fired well over with the first effort of the match before Emily Allen was thwarted by Estelle Randall in the Cardiff goal.

Both sides had their chances in the first half – Cori Williams went closest for the Bluebirds – but it remained goalless at the break.

Oxford came out firing again in the second period but were left frustrated by the impressive Randall.

Taome Oliver forced the keeper into a big save and Hannah Short crashed a header off the post when the stopper was finally beaten for the first time.

The best moment of the match came 10 minutes from time when Oliver, with the goal gaping, was again foiled by arguably the save of the season from Randall.

So extra time it was and Cardiff began to dominate.

Chloe O'Connor, Jemma Heath and Cori Williams could have easily won it for Cardiff.

Oliver went close again when she struck the bar in the dying moments, but this one was settled on penalties.

Emily Poole converted the Welsh side's winner.

Ex-youth coach lands job in New Zealand

FORMER Oxford United youth coach Des Buckingham has been appointed as the new head coach of New Zealand Under-20s.

The 32-year-old, originally from Cowley, will take up his position later this month.

Buckingham has also landed a role as assistant coach for the All Whites – the senior side – even though the head coach has yet to be announced.

The former United youth goalkeeper was a youth coach at the club between 2004 and 2014 before moving to the other side of the world to spend four years in New Zealand.

This included various roles at Wellington Phoenix, culminating with a spell in charge of the A-League side.

He has been involved with the Stoke Under-23 setup since last summer but has now been reunited with Chris Greenacre, his assistant at Wellington, in New Zealand.

Buckingham was appointed last month, the same time as José Figueira's selection as the Under-17 boss.

New Zealand Football technical director Andreas Heraf said: "We are really excited to have Des and José as our U-20 and U-17 coaches for the next World Cup cycle.

"They both bring a huge amount of high level coaching experience and the challenge for them is simple — to get our age group teams winning on the world stage, and get our best young players ready for the national team."

Buckingham's first task will be to guide Junior All Whites to the next FIFA World Cup in 2019 at a qualifying tournament in Tahiti in November.

Character helped cup win

OUFC Under-18s

OXFORD United's youngsters relished the sweet taste of revenge as they progressed into the area finals of the League Cup.

The Under-18s advanced to the penultimate round of the competition with a dramatic 10-9 penalty shoot-out win against Exeter City on Saturday.

The young U's had lost twice to the EFL Youth Alliance South West champions already this season.

The pair of defeats bookended an impressive eight-match unbeaten run for the Yellows, which made getting their own back taste even sweeter for Leon Blackmore-Such's side.

The game ended 3-3 with the Oxford goals comeing from Owen James (twice) and right-back Dan Carr scoring the other to force penalties.

U's stopper Max Harris converted the winning penalty in sudden death to set up an area final against Luton Town.

Blackmore-Such praised "a great performance" and said: "Credit to all of the players. We defended well, we took our chances, and then it was a good test of nerves when it went to penalties."

He added: "Exeter have just won our league and have been in great form so when you factor in the journey down there then the odds were against us a little bit.

"We have spoken a lot this season about spirit and character and I think that's what got us through in the end."

United take on Luton Town at home in the Southern Area final on March 31.

Impressive performance yields right result for Faz

By George Welch

Charlton Athletic 2

Ahmed Kashi 63, Josh Magennis 78

Oxford United 3

James Henry 76, Todd Kane 89, Ryan Ledson 90+4

Attendance: 11,747 (1,381 away)

CARETAKER boss Derek Fazackerley praised his 'outstanding' Oxford United players after dramatic late goals from debutant Todd Kane and Ryan Ledson fired the U's to an excellent win at Charlton Athletic.

The managerless side put on quite a show as they gallantly fought back from a goal down on two occasions to snatch all three points at the death.

Following a goalless first half the home side took the lead when Ahmed Kashi capitalised on John Mousinho's error just after the hour.

James Henry equalised but United appeared to have thrown it away just two minutes later when Northern Ireland international Josh Magennis put the Addicts in front again.

Kane, on loan from Chelsea, produced an accomplished finish to equalise in the 89th minute and, five minutes later, Ledson grabbed the winner with a stunning side-footed effort from 18 yards.

The thrilling win sent nearly 1,400 United fans – and Fazackerley – into pure jubilation.

"I'm obviously pleased with the result and the performance," Fazackerley said. "I said before the game to the players that irrespective of the result what we first and foremost needed was a performance – and I thought the performance throughout was outstanding in many aspects.

"The fact we got a result out of it as well rewarded them for their persistence, the never say die attitude and the ability, focus and concentration that they put into the game."

It was a difficult first game for the temporary boss who lost striker Wes Thomas in the warm up and his replacement, Jon Obika, limped off in the first half.

And at the other end, the usual defensive failings persisted.

He added: "Being a defender myself it is absolutely frustrating that we've again leaked a couple of goals which has given us a problem that we shouldn't have had.

"But, in saying that, I thought the honesty, endeavour, humility and integrity of the players got them back into the game and it was really pleasing to see."

The U's, up two positions to 10th in League One, host Bristol Rovers on Saturday in Fazackerley's first game in charge at the Kassam.

Fans support and singing crucial to U's

GOAL scoring hero Ryan Ledson dedicated his 94th minute winner to the hordes of Oxford United fans who follow the team up and down – and across – the country.

The 20-year-old midfielder slotted home impressively from the edge of the penalty area to complete a dramatic 3-2 victory at Charlton Athletic on Saturday.

The winner sparked delirious scenes as Ledson, inset, who was heavily linked with a move to the Championship last month, celebrated enthusiastically with the 1,400 strong United contingent.

"You know me and the fans – we have a great relationship and that [goal] was for them," the Scouser said.

"They come in their numbers and sing their hearts out which all the boys appreciate."

Oxford turned down two bids from not-so-secret admirers Preston North End in the January transfer window.

The former Everton trainee, who rubbished reports of handing in a transfer request, scored his third goal of the season with the last-gasp strike.

Of the win, he said: "Performance wise we were very good. If we get the performance right the result will take care of itself.

"Maybe there were one or two mistakes and we got punished for it but we were clinical and we could have had a couple more.

"We dug in really well, which is better than what we've been doing in recent weeks...we just need to back it up [against Bristol Rovers on Saturday]."
